Council Votes To Construct New Water Line

A new two-inch water line will be run into the black neighborhood in Malone, the Town Council decided at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Feb. 22.

The new water line has been made necessary by the construction of several new houses in the area.

Garbage Complaints

The Town Council also discussed numerous complaints it has received about sloppy garbage pick-up service. Mayor Robert J. Watford was asked to see if the present garbage pick-up service can be operated cleanly and efficiently.

If it cannot, the councilmen indicated that some other type of service may be tried.

Lights Policy

Because the council had been asked to have street lights erected on private property, the policy for establishing lights was reiterated. The town will install and maintain street lights only on public streets and where the lights will serve a number of houses.

New Budget

The council reviewed its tentative budget for 1972. Anticipated income from cigarette and other state taxes is $18,000. Anticipated expenses which are paid from this fund--salary of the town nightwatchman, street lighting and maintenance, legal fees, garbage pick-up service, insurance, city hall and fire truck maintenance--total $16,237.

Anticipated income from the water system is $10,725. Anticipated expenses to be paid from the water account--cost of maintaining water system, water pipes, supplies and labor to install water pipes--is $16,120.

Anticipated income from the new eighth-cent gas tax is $1,800. No expenses have been budgeted for the gas tax account so far.

Tournaments Scheduled

The varsity basketball teams from Greenwood and Malone will participate in district tournaments on Friday evening, Feb. 25.

Greenwood will play against Grand Ridge in the second game of the evening at Grand Ridge gym. The first game, Altha against Sneads, will begin at 7 p.m.

Malone will play Bethlehem at 7:30 p.m. The tournament is at Bethlehem gym. Winner of the game will play in the finals against Poplar Springs on Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

1972 HONOR GRADUATES--Virginia Creel, right, is valedictorian of the Malone High School graduating class of 1972; and Carolyn Olive, left, is salutatorian. On a four-point scale, Virginia has an overall high school average of 3.9. She has made one "B" in her high school career. Carolyn has a 3.8 average. Both girls scored extremely high on the Florida Twelfth Grade Examination and both will enter Chipola Junior College next fall. Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Creel, route one, Bascom; and Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Olive of Bascom.

Hickory Grove Celebrates Willie Stephens Day

A large congregation of friends and relatives gathered Sunday, Feb. 20, at Hickory Grove Free Will Baptist Church to honor John William Dallas Stephens on "Willie Stephens Day."

Mr. Stephens was presented with a boutonniere, a huge birthday cake and a fountain pen mounted on a marble base with his initials inscribed in gold.

The church which honored him is younger than he is, having been organized when he was one and one-half years old. His 94th birthday was Feb. 23.

For 69 of his years--since 1903--Mr. Stephens has served as clerk of the church, meticulously keeping its records in his fine handwriting.

Mr. Stephens has always lived in the Hickory Grove area. He attended school in a schoolhouse located near the church. Later, he attended two terms of school at Bascom.

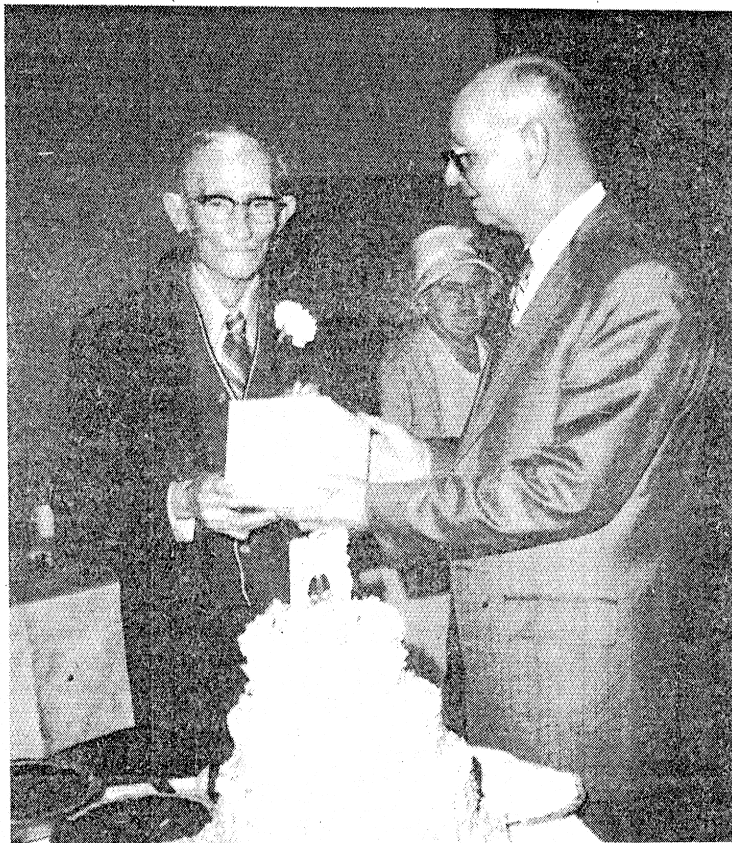

Mr. Stephens took examinations and qualified to be a teacher in 1898. However, his teaching career lasted exactly one year. "I didn't like it," Mr. Stephens said. "I liked farming."

"I guess you could say I had a two-horse farm," Mr. Stephens said, smiling. "We didn't have tractors when I was farming. However, I eventually graduated to a three-horse farm."

Mr. Stephens now lives near Bascom with his only daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.

George Hatcher (Mildred), almost within sight of the house where he and his wife reared their two children. Mrs. Stephens, the former Lillian Jordan, died in 1961. Their only son, James, died in World War II.

WILLIE STEPHENS DAY--Mr. Willie Stephens, left, accepts a gift from the congregation of Hickory Grove Free Will Baptist Church, presented by the Rev. J. B. Lovering, pastor, during Willie Stephens Day on Sunday, Feb. 20, at the church. Mr. Stephens has been clerk of the church for 69 years.

County Commission Meeting

Delegation Complains About Unpaved Road

The Jackson County Board of County Commissioners was confronted by a large and unhappy delegation of taxpayers during its meeting on Tuesday morning, Feb. 22.

The delegation was composed of people who live along 10 miles of an unpaved road north of Four Points, between Grand Ridge and Sneads.

Lamar Creel, pastor of El Bethel Assembly of God Church and spokesman for the group, said the commission has promised to pave the nearly-impassable road for 12 years.

Road Planned

After the delegation left, the commissioners discovered that the problem had already been solved. A resolution from the State Department of Transportation, which the commissioners immediately signed, lists the road as the top priority item in next year's secondary road budget. It will probably be paved in about a year.

The delegation was particularly angry because the commissioners had agreed two weeks ago to have slightly over a mile of their road paved, but also to pave six-tenths of a mile on the Christian School Road in Marianna.

The delegation demanded to know how the Christian School Road got ahead of its road on the list of priorities. Commissioners explained that the decision to pave was made after a traffic count revealed that 480 cars travel the Christian School Road daily.

Grand Ridge Prisoners

The Grand Ridge Town Council appeared at the meeting to request that its town be allowed to place prisoners in the county jail.

"Our jail is going to be condemned in July," Grand Ridge Mayor Raino Watts said, "and we'll have no place to keep prisoners until a new jail is built."

The commissioners indicated that the proposal will be approved after their attorney has investigated the legality of the move and the cost per prisoner to be charged.

Oil Prospectors

Two representatives from the Southern Natural Gas Company, Dewitt Cribbs and George Muns, were given permission to test for oil and natural gas along county road rights-of-way with a Viber-Size.

The men explained that they are not drilling for oil, but testing for typical "oil structures" in the county's topography.

Cribbs told the board that the prospect for oil discovery in the county is "looking mighty good." His company is also running tests in Washington and Holmes counties and may test in Gadsden County as well, Cribbs said.

Radio Equipment

The Commission accepted new radio equipment worth $61,933 for the county sheriff's department and municipal police departments in the county. The equipment was a federal grant and cost the county nothing.

Public Meeting

The board was advised by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission that a public meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 1, at 7 p.m. in the Circuit Courtroom to consider hunting season dates and other rules and regulations pertaining to hunting and fishing.

In other business the board:

Appointed Commissioner Fred Williams as its representative to the Tri-Rivers Development Association;

Gave Commissioner Neal Carter permission to purchase enough hot mix to patch one mile of road at Cloverdale Farms;

Agreed to close its cement pipe plant at the County Road Camp on March 1 and to begin using galvanized pipe on county projects;

Decided to advertise for bids on 1,000 road and bridge reflectors.

Historical Commission Meeting

Speaker Tells Of Jackson's Home

The romantic story of Andrew Jackson's love for his wife, Rachel, which led to the construction of Jackson's mansion, The Hermitage, was recounted for the Jackson County Historical Commission at a special meeting on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.

The speaker was Dr. Mack Craig, dean of students at David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Craig is a specialist in the history of the Old South.

In addition to members of the commission, a number of special guests participated in the meeting which was held at Great Oaks, the restored ante-bellum home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Reese in Greenwood.

Dr. Craig said that The Hermitage, built in 1819, has been completely restored in every detail. All of its original furnishings have been recovered.

Jackson built the mansion outside Nashville, Dr. Craig said, as a setting for his wife, Rachel was ostracized by Nashville society because she married Jackson, mistakenly thinking that her first husband had divorced her.

Although Rachel subsequently divorced her first husband and remarried Jackson, the incident created a scandal from which the couple never escaped. Rachel was condemned as an adulteress by many people for the rest of her life.

Claude Reese, chairman of the historical commission, announced that he will purchase and restore another historic house, located near Great Oaks, in Greenwood. The house was originally built by E. T. C. Dickinson and his wife, Elizabeth Bryan Dickinson, probably in the 1870's.

On display at the meeting was a page from an 1870 account book kept by a Jackson County merchant, James Baker. It had been decoupage onto a wall plaque by Mrs. Sara Harris of Marianna, Baker's great granddaughter.

Reese also announced that a speaker's bureau has been organized by the commission to familiarize Jackson Countians with their history.

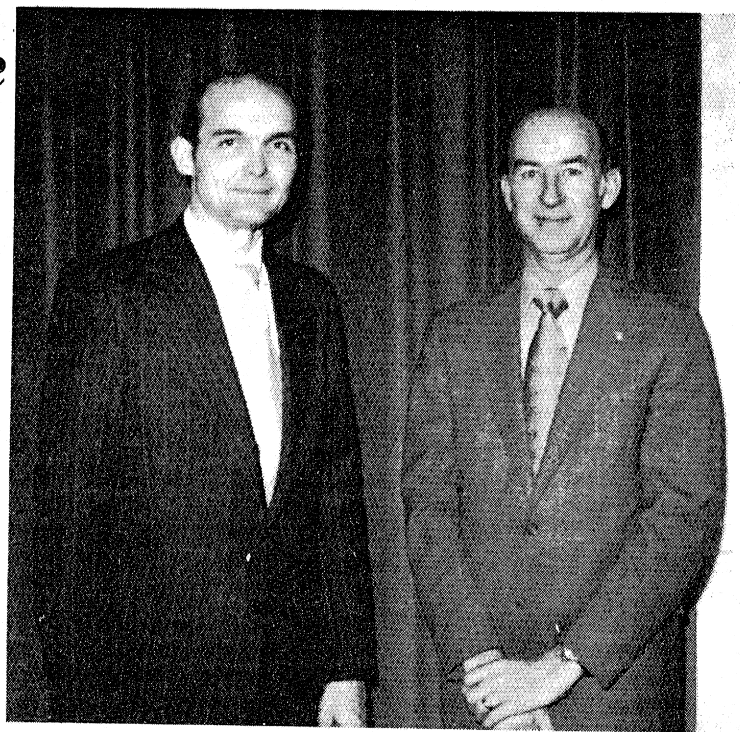

Available to speak at civic functions are the following:

Judge Robert McCrary, "The History of the Judiciary in Jackson County;" Robert Childs, "The History of Education in Jackson County;" Thomas Wilkinson, "Andrew Jackson in Jackson County" and "The Battle of Marianna;" E. W. Carswell, "Reconstruction" and "Our Indians;" Mrs. Frances Stewart, "Webbville;" and Claude Reese, "The Bryan Plantation."

Present at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pender, II, Mrs. J. B. Pender, Miss Lucy Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Alsup and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Basford, all of Greenwood;

William A. Grant, Mrs. Roberta Carter, Mrs. Eleanor Campbell, Mrs. Willie C. Gammon, Mrs. Floie C. Packard, Mrs. Julia L. Criegler, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bruner, Slade West, Mr. and Mrs. John Manor, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave May, Mr. and Mrs. Kelso Gillenwater and Mrs. Sara Harris, all of Marianna;

Mrs. Sybil Taylor of Bonifay, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller of Sneads, Mrs. Forrest Welch of Cottondale, Bill Trawick of Bergen, N.C., Mrs. Diane Greer of Tallahassee, Sen. and Mrs. Robert Williams of Tallahassee, Mrs. Louise Smith of Graceville, Mr. and Mrs. Oren R. Smith of Bonifay, Bernie Cobb of Dothan, Mrs. Miriam Bailey of Malone and E. W. Carswell of Chipley.

Following are some things you can do without, if you are a fisherman.

Windy days.

Biting insects.

Leaking boats.

Fishing partners who consistently catch more fish than you.

Fish that absolutely refuse to bite.

Wives who absolutely refuse to let you go fishing without a fuss.

Hot beer.

Aggressive tree limbs, stumps and logs that reach out and snap your hooks.

People who won't listen to your fishing stories.

People who won't believe
your fishing stories.

People who--no matter how big a fish story you tell--can always tell one a little bigger.

Cantankerous outboard motors.

Bright sunshine in clear waters.

A falling barometric pressure.
A crowd at your favorite fishing spot.

Water pollution.

That "sickening mess" inside a fish that your wife uses as an excuse for not helping you clean your catch.

Greenwood Wins Over Sneads In Home Game

By Pam Davis

In their final home game of the 1972 basketball season the Greenwood Dragons added a seventh win to their record by defeating Sneads, 61-56, on Friday night, Feb. 18.

The game was close all the way with less than two points difference throughout the first three quarters. First quarter score saw the Dragons on top, 14-12. The first half ended with the Pirates in the lead 26-24. The third quarter score again avored the Dragons, 41-40. In the final period of play the Greenwood team gained a five-point victory lead over the opponents.

He was followed by Al Tripp, who sank seven for a total of 13 points, and Ervin Long, who sank eight for a total of 13 also. Ferrie Tripp was the only other Dragon in double figures. He made a total of 10 points.

The Dragons had their best scoring quarter in the fourth period of play when they made a total of 20 points, eight of these from the charity line. During the game the team had forty chances for free throws, two from technical fouls. They completed only 15 for a percentage of approximately 38.

The Greenwood "B" team was unable to win its game against the baby Pirates. The final score was 49-40. The baby Dragons were led in scoring by Werlean Pollock and Adele Robinson with eight points each.

The judges, all from Marianna, were Mrs. Alyne Pittman, supervisor of

In addition to the winners the contestants were Karen Basford, Katie Brown, Mellonia Crawford, Veronica Hearn, Ionia Long, Elmira Pollocks, Beth Temple and Frankie Willis.

Jerseys which have been ordered for the teams are expected to arrive soon.

The teams will play each Thursday evening through March 16. The first game will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the second game at 7:30 p.m. On the schedule for Thursday, Feb. 24, are the Celtics against the Lakers and the Hawks against the Bucks.

Consolation and championship games have been scheduled for March 30.

An all-star game on April 6 will end the season.

Willie Stephens Day

Until the past few years, Mr. Stephens has enjoyed good health. He gets about by himself and his memory is quite reliable. He does not need a hearing aid. Most unusual for a man of his age is the fact that he still has his own teeth.

Mr. Stephens views his long life from a profoundly Christian point of view. "It doesn't matter how long a man lives," Mr. Stephens said. "The best thing that can be said about a long life is that the longer a man lives, the more possibilities he has to be an influence for good."

Book Collection Offers Continuing Memorial

Approximately 50 books in the Malone High School Library are dedicated to the memory of Malone graduates and other residents of the area who have died.

Money to buy the memorial books was donated by family and friends of the deceased people.

Mrs. Nancy Nobles, librarian, explains that the memorial books collection was begun only a few years ago, but it seems to be a perfect way to remember loved ones while doing something useful for the younger generation.

"The books are a continuing memorial," Mrs. Nobles said. "They are always useful to someone."

When money is contributed for a memorial book, Mrs. Nobles explained, the donor may specify the subject matter of the book.

For example, some of the most popular books in the library, on sports, are in memory of the late "Bubba" Garrett. Many memorial books on religion are dedicated to the memory of Miss Nina Faye Olive.

Inside the cover of each memorial book, the library places a bookplate which states the name of the person in whose memory the book has been purchased and the name of the donor, as well as any other information that the donor wants to give.

Some of the bookplates list birth and death dates. Others give the year that the deceased graduated from Malone High.

Although the memorial book collection is young, it is growing. Apparently many people have begun to feel that books are an appropriate memorium.

Because the collection is popular with the students, many of the books remain checked out much of the time.

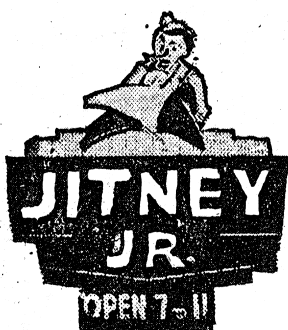

Memorial books have been dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Ann Williams Collins, William P. Fears, Mrs. Johnnie Morris Patrick McArthur and H. W. B. Taylor.

Contributions for memorial books may be large or small since books come in all sizes and price ranges, Mrs. Nobles said.

Anyone who wishes to remember his loved ones with a memorial book may do so by calling the school.
